Uganda's new Social Media Tax is a major blow to internet freedom.

A new report by @DefendDefenders & @OpenObservatory documents what methods ISPs are using to implement the blocks to social media and circumvention tools: ooni.io/post/uganda-so... #Uganda #censorship

Key Findings

- HTTP blocking and RST injection: Ugandan ISPs primarily implement internet censorship by means of HTTP blocking, resetting connections to taxed and banned sites.
- TCP/IP blocking of apps: MTN appears to block Twitter, Facebook, WhatsApp, Instagram and Snapchat by means of TCP/IP blocking. The TCP/IP blocking of Snapchat may have caused collateral damage, possibly affecting thousands of sites hosted on the same CDN. However, even if this is the case, it doesn't affect most MTN users since MTN's proxy circumvents IP-level blocking.
- Variance in blocking: Social media censorship varies across ASNs. Africell, for example, attempts to block Telegram, while MTN doesn't. Some Ugandan ISPs don't block access to social media sites at all (such as Uganda Telecom and Smile Communications).
- Circumvention tools blocked to prevent untaxed access to social media: The blocking of circumvention tool sites also varies across ASNs. MTN blocks access to VPN servers using the OpenVPN protocol and to torproject.org, but not to the Tor network.

Quicken Loans @QuickenLoans · Nov 5

If you don't want to keep paying so much interest to the big banks you should really think about switching to a 15-year fixed with Quicken Loans. If you're paying a mortgage, you shouldn't go another day without seeing this. (Don't worry - we're experts!)

I think Clark Griswold made less of a fool of himself.

Rep. Eric Swalwell @RepSwalwell
Trump's European Vacation was as bad as the movie. He wimped out of honoring our fallen troops because of a misting. He moped around in his hotel room and insulted fire victims. And he was scorched by the French President. This is not winning. This is a national embarrassment.
